How does housing impact your health and recovery?

Stable and affordable housing gives people a safe space to recover and maintain a high quality of life.

Are you a client of San Mateo County Behavioral Health and Recovery Services (BHRS) with a story about how housing has impacted your health and well-being?

The San Mateo County Mental Health and Substance Abuse Commission (MHSARC) wants to hear from BHRS clients about how housing in San Mateo County can affect mental health and the recovery process.

Give your feedback and help address housing issues in San Mateo County!

Clients, family members, providers, and staff are welcome to attend.

Please share this invitation with others!
